Resignation of Chief Financial Officer

New Zealand King Salmon Investments Limited (NZX & ASX: NZK) announces that the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) Ben Rodgers has resigned and will leave the company in November 2025.

CEO Carl Carrington said “Ben has made a significant contribution in advancing our organisational and operational capability as the business prepares for transformational growth. Ben’s energy, leadership and mana resonates across the business and puts us in a good space to be rightfully excited for the future.” NZK will commence a search for a new CFO.
